ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An improved Class D amplifier which does not utilize a clock, is self-oscillating, and reduces switching errors and distortions. The amplifier includes positive and negative switches which are selectively activated to 5 reduce errors in gain in the analog signal produced by the amplifier.